

CONFIDENTIAL

Lady Godiva

Lady Godiva was an 11th-century Anglo-Saxon noblewoman who became Coventry's most enduring legend after allegedly riding naked through the city streets on horseback to protest her husband's oppressive taxes on local tenants. While she was a real historical figure, the famous nude ride is considered a myth that developed centuries after her death. Today, her story is deeply woven into Coventry's identity and visual landscape